01 / QUICK START

How to use this guide

Start with a complete prompt. Add shortcuts when you want a faster workflow.

WHAT THE /COMMANDS MEAN

The 30 slash labels in this guide are CorzoHub style shortcuts. They are not built-in ChatGPT commands or hidden features. Define them in your conversation using page 5, or use the full example prompts directly.

1. PICK A STYLE

Use the finder on page 4. Each numbered entry explains the intended look and a useful starting point. The example prompts describe the look in plain language, so they work without loading any shortcuts.

2. COPY, CUSTOMIZE, CREATE

In an image-capable chat, paste a full example prompt. Replace the subject, colors and format with your own choices, then ask for the image. In ChatGPT, you can describe a new image or upload an image and describe an edit.

3. REVIEW AND REFINE

Check the result, then ask for one specific change: softer light, less haze, more space for a headline or a simpler background. Save the version you want to use. Treat UI images as concepts that still need implementation.

Shortcut route: paste the setup on page 5, then try `/luxury a black smartwatch`.

02 / YOUR PROMPT FORMULA

Build a clear brief

A useful prompt tells the model what to show and how you want it presented.

01

SUBJECT

What is the main object, person or scene?

02

STYLE

Which visual direction should guide the image?

03

LIGHTING

Where does the light come from, and how soft is it?

04

COMPOSITION

How is the subject framed, placed and spaced?

ADD YOUR OUTPUT DETAILS

Name the aspect ratio, exact wording and any reference details that matter. For a product ad, you can leave empty space and add final type in your design editor.

COMPLETE EXAMPLE

Create an image of a black smartwatch in a luxury studio style, with soft rim lighting and a centered composition on charcoal. Use portrait 4:5 framing and realistic materials. Keep the top quarter empty for a headline added later.

REFINE Remove the warm accent for a strict monochrome version.

05 / WORKING WITH A REFERENCE

Edit an existing image

Tell the model which details must stay and which change you want.

1. UPLOAD THE IMAGE

Attach the actual image you want to edit. If there are multiple references, identify each role: use one for the subject and another for lighting or color direction.

2. DESCRIBE THE CHANGE

Name the style, requested adjustment and details to preserve. For a portrait, include facial features, expression and proportions. For a product, include shape, label wording, color and placement.

COPY + PASTE / PRODUCT EDIT

Edit the attached product photo into a luxury studio image. Preserve the product shape, proportions, label wording and label placement. Change the background to charcoal and add soft gold rim lighting. Keep the product fully visible in portrait 4:5 framing. Do not add new accessories or text.

PORTRAIT REFINEMENT

Keep the same person, facial features and expression. Change only the background and lighting; keep skin texture natural and avoid reshaping the face.

Review preservation carefully: image edits can change details beyond the requested area. These instructions express your intent; they cannot guarantee an exact match.

06 / PUT IT TO WORK

Three useful recipes

Combine a main style with a specific subject and a clear output goal.

A / PREMIUM SOCIAL CAMPAIGN

/luxury + /socialad

Create a premium social campaign image of an unbranded black desk lamp on a charcoal surface. Use a luxury studio look, soft gold edge lighting and strong product separation. Frame in portrait 4:5 with the top quarter empty for a headline. Keep the composition simple and add no text.

B / APP CONCEPT

/glassmorphism + /darkui

Create one front-facing mobile weather screen concept using dark UI and glassmorphism. Use frosted charcoal cards, crisp white labels and a small gold accent. Show current weather, a five-day forecast and one location control. Portrait 9:16. Make the hierarchy clear and keep reflections subtle.

C / CINEMATIC WORKSHOP

/cinematic + /volumetric

Create a cinematic image of a quiet workshop at sunrise. Show one wooden bench as the focal point, warm side light and subtle sunbeams through light haze. Keep the tools believable, materials realistic and background uncluttered. Landscape 16:9. Preserve detail in the shadow areas.

Use the full recipe directly, or load the setup before using its slash labels.

07 / REFINE YOUR RESULT

Make the next version better

Change one variable at a time so you can see what improved.

The image feels generic.

Specify the material, light direction and camera view. Try: "brushed aluminum, soft side light, three-quarter view."

The composition feels crowded.

Reduce props, define one focal point and ask for more negative space around it.

The scene is too dark.

Ask for softer contrast and visible shadow detail while retaining the dark background.

The text or logo is wrong.

Supply exact wording or the real logo reference. For final brand assets, add approved text and artwork in your layout editor.

The UI looks polished but impractical.

Simplify the screen, check contrast and verify labels. A generated interface is a design concept, not working software.

The shortcut did not work.

Paste the setup again, define the label in plain words, or use the full example prompt for that style.

BEFORE YOU USE IT

Check subject accuracy, important details, text, framing and readability at the size people will actually see.
